

Food Products Incorporated with Bioactive Compounds from Small Onion Bio-Waste

Salient features

- Extraction of bioactive compounds from small onion bio-waste and its incorporation into various food products
- The onion waste streams can directly be substituted in different foods upto 30% based on the sensorial preferences
- Waste to wealth

Advantages

- The onion waste streams are good sources of phytochemicals, essential fatty acids, and hence has potential to be applied in food systems
- Improve nutritional and functional properties of food products.
- Utilize the hidden value of the onion processing waste and generate additional income for onion farmers with

Process technology / product developed by Year

Dr. V.R.Sinija, Food Processing Business Incubation Center
Indian Institute of Food Processing Technology (IIFPT), Thanjavur - 613005, Tamil Nadu
Email: sinija@iifpt.edu.in 2018-2019

Source of funding

MoFPI

More information

Status of commercialization / Patent / Publications
Technology under evaluation